RAIN MARRED FIRST DAY OF BERRYVILLE HORSE SHOW

Made It Hazardous Undertaking for Expert Riders to Take Horses Over Jumps.

ONE GENTLEMAN RIDER HURTS

J. S. Ferguson, of Mountsville, Va., thrown headlong at last jump, escapes broken bones—list of winners.

WINCHESTER, VA.—August 25.—Drizzling rain marred the formal opening of the fourteenth annual exhibition of the Clarke County Horse and Colt Show Association in the western suburbs of Berryville today, cut down the attendance and made it a hazardous undertaking for even expert riders to take their horses over the jumps, but the program was carried out as scheduled.

Competition was keen among rival exhibitors. Many of the clubs had contingents entry, representing the cream of the most celebrated states of Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and other States. Eighty-five persons have entered from one to half a dozen horses, the entries being considerable in excess of 400. All private grandstand boxes were rented weeks in advance, and Clarke County is entertaining large numbers of prominent visitors from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Norfolk, and other cities.

The grandstand spectators shuddered and gasped this afternoon when J. S. Ferguson, of Mountsville, Va., riding his bay mare Maxie in the green hunter class, was thrown headlong at the last jump, but he quickly remounted and put the mare through. His injuries are painful but no bones broken.

STEWARDS PERMIT FOUL TO STAND AT SARATOGA

SARATOGA, August 22.—The stewards here went on record today by admitting that a foul took place twenty years ago when the Saratoga Hunt Club refused to dismount. Pugil, the winner, and gave the race to Fox, who was interfered with. Both horses were declared dead. The Saratoga stewards pulled up the outside bit, Fox and the won on the post by a head. After talking over the protest made by Fox's owner, the stewards refused to disturb the regular order of the placing. The rules provide that a horse that commits a foul must be disqualified, but the committee ruled that a different rule took place.

That foul happened at the most critical stage of the race. Yesterday the stewards disallowed Water Well, our third place, when not a race-goer saw a foul take place. Roamer won the Huron handicap, carrying 128 pounds, in a gallop. It was the best race of the season for a three-year-old.
